Come explore the micro world of cells and DNA! This summer camp is led by a middle school science teacher and is geared towards exploring biology. Summer camp students will gain invaluable experience with microscopes. Students will learn through interactive lessons and activities (i.e. creating models of both eukaryotic and prokaryotic cells and DNA), application (i.e. proper use of microscopes), and other labs (i.e. extracting DNA). The week is packed with biology exploration that will help students excel in science and gain interest in the area of biology. There is a $30 supply fee that will be paid to the instructor for the use of microscopes.
