SPECIAL PRESENTATION

Joel Aune, Superintendent of Snoqualmie Valley School District 410 addressed the commission requesting support of the SVSD Proposition 1 capital bond measure to be submitted to voters in February of 2011. Superintendent Aune spoke of the creating a Freshman Campus, building a replacement middle school, a 2013 overcrowding forecast and much needed improvements to current facilities. A Representative of the Valley Voters for Education spoke briefly stating that construction will never be less expensive. He also acknowledged the school districts plan to go forth with the Freshman Campus should the bond fail, noting that the other middle schools would then absorb the excess students. Commissioner Raisio inquired if a trail in between the freshman campus (currently a middle school) and the high school would be built. Superintendent Aune responded that it is unlikely that a trail would be built. Commissioner Joselyn expressed his interest in a future partnership in scheduling/access to the school's fields. The Valley Voters for Education representative responded that in these economic times conservative use of the fields helps offset maintenance costs. Commissioner Raisio speculated that if construction costs were lower than expected, should the bond pass then perhaps the remaining funds may be used for an additional field or lights. Superintendent Aune stated that the school district has their eyes open for a partnership to do additional projects. Commissioner Elwood asked if the SVSD intended to narrow the project list should minimal be available. Superintendent Aune stated ninth graders are likely to transition better into the high school setting and that is a unique opportunity that the school district does not wish to overlook. Superintendent Aune thanked the commission for the opportunity to speak.
